

Dear Faculty and students:

On behalf of the Executive Committee of the Center for Asian Studies (CAS), I would like to invite faculty and graduate students to apply for the 2015 Spring Call for Proposals for funding for research and events.

We have set a deadline of Friday, April 3, 2015 for submitting online applications, with decisions to be made by the Executive Committee by mid-April.

Faculty and students may apply for a maximum of $5,000 for research support, and a maximum of $6,000 for event or workshop support.

Proposals may receive partial funding, and we encourage you to seek additional sources for support.

All applications must be submitted online at:

With best wishes,

Vinayak Chaturvedi
Associate Professor, Department of History
Director, Center for Asian Studies
